You and the director of the New School will negotiate a social contract a two-way promise that commits each of us to an honest sharing in the learning-feeling process.

The relationships you will develop in the New School will be characterized by human concern, civility, and friendliness. The atmosphere of the New School will be conducive to such human interaction. By our common attention to these concerns, the New School space will be a happy human space.

If you are searching for an important thing to do in the next couple of years, we invite you to think about joining us at the New School.

We will ask you to try to understand that the value of the educational opportunities in the New School depend on your generosity. You will be invited to assume a responsible role in the development and actualization of those educational opportunities.

We will all participate in changing systems, attitudes and spaces. These changes are dramatic & demanding. To successfully achieve new systems, attitudes, and spaces, each of us must be daily present to that important & useful task.

The New School will encourage you to feel and know yourself. We will encourage and support excellent academic achievement. We will all be about the business of becoming whole.

There is Freedom in responsibility: Joy in sharing & caring: Happiness in achieving excellence: and Challenge in change.

This is no hype. We talk about these things because we do care about them. If you do, Join us.
